

Keith Gray is a Vice President of The Clearing House with responsibility for RTP® Network Strategic Partnerships.

During his 20+year career, Mr. Gray has worked extensively with financial institutions and business' of all sizes, as well as financial technology companies on emerging payments initiatives, mobile solutions, and online banking applications. He worked with multiple early stage organizations bringing new products to market.

He is a frequent speaker at conferences and payments related functions. Mr. Gray resides in Nashville and is an alumnus of Trevecca University.